THE STORY OF THE ENCHANTRESS...

In the shadow of a life marked by unexpected darkness, a star has risen, bright and powerful, in the world of music. Ce'Loy, an international singer-songwriter, carries a story that transcends words and moves the soul.

In the twilight of her twenties, Ce'Loy's life was suddenly plunged into the deepest darkness, with the sudden loss of her mother. One morning, she left for work without saying goodbye to her mother, convinced that she would see her again a few hours later. But fate had decided otherwise, and that simple goodbye was forever denied her. In that moment when all the cards of destiny were reshuffled, a solemn promise was made, both to her mother and to herself: to realize her dreams, whatever the cost. This promise was her beacon through the darkest nights of her life.

The early days were anything but a fairy tale. Ce'Loy experienced struggles and obstacles, but what always sustained her was the unconditional love of those around her. Over the years, she released songs, worked with managers and press agents, but the coveted success seemed to elude her, the stars refusing to align.

Today, imbued with determination, a wealth of experience and an unshakeable desire to share her creativity, Ce'Loy is ready to continue on her own path. The risks are real, with financial hardship, social isolation and the shame of failure lurking in ambush. Do you know what the worst thing would be for her? Not having tried at all! The regrets would be more bitter than any hardship.

As we all know, life always throws back in our path the lessons that were meant for us and that we didn't learn that we haven't yet applied.

She was recently reminded of her fragility as she crossed a crosswalk in broad daylight. A hit-and-run driver, like a specter of death, raced towards her at breakneck speed. A heart-rending scream erupted from her entrails, a cry for survival that stopped the infernal machine just two centimetres away from her, just like in the movies. It was the music of his voice that saved her.

In this frantic dance with destiny, Ce'Loy understands that tomorrow is an indecipherable mystery. She refuses to postpone her dreams to an uncertain tomorrow, because she knows that every moment counts.

Her story is a poignant reminder that even in the darkest moments, music can illuminate our lives and save us from the darkness. Ce'Loy is much more than a singer, she is a muse, a survivor, an artist who transcends time and space to touch the hearts and souls of those who listen to her.
